Henskons, June 28gd, 1878.

An interesting and somewhat curious-illustration of the easy manuer in which eriominals of the very worst grade can obtain the protection of the well-to-do Chinese in the Colony, and the extent to which sympathy is extended to flien in their contempt for British law and authority, occurred a few eddys ago at the Police Court. A very old . resident in Victoria Gaol, named CHUN-A-LOI, was apprehended proping about during the still house or the night, and was brought betore Mr. MITCHELL, charged with being a ACCIDENT TO THE P. AND O. MAIL suspicious character, dangerous to the peace and good order of the Colony. He had been in gaol on several different occasions. On one he was sentenced to eighteen months' hard labour, and to be flogged, for robbery years hard labour. The Magistrate fined him $50, or three months' imprisonment, and next Court day, two excellent sureties pre- Kowloon Docks. sented themselves one, a gentleman named LAI-A-ON, a large owner of goats, a Christian, criminals on several other occasions, and this "appeared," led to a few pertinent questions they did so in order to get rid of him, and induce him to leave the Colony; but, upon , being questioned as to what interest they had in him, they hesitated, and ultimately, on the question being pressed, fell back upon man, the mother. They came forward as that the moment ho was released they were on this explanation, but that if the man came lack, they would have to forfeit the amount; and Mr. MITCHELL added that, on the man's being released, the police would see that he went off in the steamer. This evidently did not suit the views of the sureties. who were desirous that they should have the management of the affair in their own hands, but were prevented, and the man was duly seen off. Of course, it is too much to believe that. darkness, as is usually the case in tegard to which induces such action on the part of the sureties, who are apparently in very respectable positions. One means by which this is done, is by the powerful working of secret organisations, which are commonly formed among them, and whose influence is much-dreaded by a Chinese, for which indeed there seems good reason, to judge by the report of the investigations into the Secret Societies in Penang. At all events, it is perfectly clear from the circumstances above detailed, that it is absurd to place any faith in what are so often ostentatiously held forward as the great safeguard of Hongkong against all dangers and difficulties-the respectable' Chinese. It is considered that we can safely look to this class for maintaining order and preventing any serious outbreak on the part of the criminal and rowdy population. Let those who believe this, say whether the action of the Rev. Court under protest when appealing. This case affords only one of many instances of the discreditable effects of the present system of contralization, and, of the multiplication of forms which have grown up since the transfer, under Colonial Office rule, which tend to bring the Government into disrepute, and to engender contempt in the eyes of natives for its Courts of Justice: No wonder the ignorant Chinese prefer the speedy and simple decisions of their headmen to the delays and vexations of an appeal to the Courts, when it takes seven months to get a simple magisterial decision rentified, and a year or more to extract from the Government Treasury money to which it has no claim.

We have been favoured with a copy in the Dutch language of the Proclamation of a Blockade of Acheen by the Dutch Authorities. We are enabled to give, below, a translation of this Proclamation. We should have imagined that a document of so much importance to the trade of these Settlements would have warranted the issue of an Extra-Government Garolle, in order to warn prerchants and traders, but the discreditable supineness and even complicity which have characterised the local and imperial British Government with regard to this wanton and injuitous attack of the Dutch upon Achiacse independence, would seem to be destined to be carried out in the smallest minuties. PROCLAMATION. The Governor General of Netherlands India, Informs each and every person whom it may concern, that on account of the war which exists between the Netherlands Indian Government and the Kingdom of Achieen-the harbours, lauding places, coasts, rivers, bays, and creeks of the Kingdom are declared to be in a state of blockade, with all the consequences attached to it, and that the Commander of the Naval Force stationed in the Achinese waters is obarged with the execution of this measure. TEA ADULTERATION. On the 6th May, at a meeting of the City Commission of Sewers at Guildhall, Dr. Lebbshy, the Medical Officer of Health for the City, reported that his attention had been of London of 1.000 boxes of adulterated green tes. He at once proceeded to the sale roome in Mincing lane, where the tea was being sold by auction, but failing to get authentic samples; he went to the bonded warehouses in Upper Thames, street, and obtained them there. On returning to the rooms he found that the whole of the tea bad been sold, but one of the inspectors had fortunately obtained the names of most of the purchasers. The toa was sold in lots of 250 boxes cach, and was described as "Extra Fine New Season's Moyane Gurpowder Green Tea, ex Sarpedon, steamship, from Canton. He bad carefully examined the samples, and found that they contained from 40 to 48 per cent of ironfilings and 19 per cent. of silies in the form of fine sand, which had been cleverly mixed with and added to the leaves before carling, with a view to increase their weight and bulk. After the leaves were ourled they had been thickly covered with green pigment, and when infused in boiling water they produced a very turbid solution, off msive to the smell and massous to the tasts. He recommended the Sunitary Committee to take further proceedings in the matter. He also stated that on the 25th April he was privately informed that a large quantity of unsound tes was being offered for sale in the city by a firm of brokers, and on enquiry he found that it was the salvage of about 1,150,000 lbs, of tea which formed part of the cargo of the Lalla Rookh, the vessel which was wrecked on the 2nd of March. The wet tea was brought to London a short time ago, and, having been redried and otherwise manipulated to give it a decent appearance, had been repacked in old tea chests bought for the purpose, and then stored in a bonded warehouse. It consisted of 934 half-chests and 36 chests of congou, 24 halfchests of green tea, and 2d bags of teadust. All the samples were composed of exhausted and putrid leaves, and were utterly unfit for human consumption. The solicitor (Mr. Baylis) had warned both the sampling brokers and the owners of their liabilities under the Adultoraion Act in case they disposed of the tes.

They suggested that power should be given to the medical officer of health or nuisance inspector of a district to enter bonded warehouses to inspect stricks of food and drink stored there, and if necessary to take samples, and in the event of their being found to be unsound and adulterated, to obtain from the Justices an order either for the immediate seizing and condemnation of the goods or their stoppage for a sufficient time to enable an examination to be made. With a view to such powers being granted, they recommended Policies at current rates, payable either hero that their report should be sent to Her Majesty's Government and to the Board of Oustome. TAOR comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is Policies issued for sums not exceeding £5,000, fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accenta being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast or Ship-musters wishing to patronice him, are economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications... To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration. Chalmers' Vocabularly contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese charac- the following articles may be obtained, of the ters. there in her bed-room. Her chair was placed before her toilet table, which was lighted by a wax taper on each side of the glass. The two tapers were not sufficient to illuminate the rooms very brilliantly, and the further end lay buried in a sort of semi-obscurity. Madamo Lucca was busy reading some letter concerning engagements, when suddenly she imagined she heard a noise. She looked round, but, seeing nothing, concluded she had made a mistake, and resumed the perusal of the letters. She had forgotten all about the noise when she heard it again. This time, instead of looking around, she happened, without moving her head, merely to raise her eyes to the glass. She beheld re-

She quietly looked again. No, if was no dream. There was the man, whom she now recognized as having been formerly in her service, whence he had been discharged for general bad behaviour.
